PROPHETIC WORD:

(Excerpt from "Beholding and Becoming")

Cross over, My children - from all you have known, seen and tasted of My presence.

For all that has passed before you on the journey of worship has been to bring you to this place.

For I am taking the heart of stone out of the lives of My people... to free them from selfish restraint and self preoccupation... that they may behold Me.

In these days, I will be your reward as you worship. You will enter into that place of adoration that the angels occupy around My throne.

For it shall be on earth, even as it is in heaven. Worship from earth shall ascend and meet worship descending from heaven.

When the first heaven meets the third heaven in adoration, all that is demonic in the second heaven shall be displaced by the weight of glory.

For I shall come down into that place of adoration... as you seat Me on the throne of your passion.

When I come, all things will change. I will adorn My bride with My beauty and make her ready for My intimate embrace.

Cross over, My children.

Set your heart to cross over into a new land of worship.

Press in. Press in.

Learn to stand in joy and admiration. Receive the stamina, discipline, the will to push your heart forward.

Give yourself, do not withhold... but push, push on, push through.

Give birth to a new song that will captivate your heart as it captivates Mine. This song will fill the earth. It will fill My house. It will fill My temple, even as it fills your heart.

A new land awaits you. Go in and possess your possessions.

In worship, in adoration, receive My longing for you. Let my heart refresh you, replenish you and restore you.

Amen.
