FRUIT OF THE SPIRIT

GRAHAM COOKE

EPISODE 14:

Nothing Works Against Fruit

“Everything the enemy seeks to bring against us can be turned around by moving in the opposite spirit and that is what will afflict him instead.”

Consider the key truth quoted above from this episode.

- + How does that statement impact your perception of “spiritual warfare?”
- + What new thoughts does it create about times of adversity that you’ve not had before?
- + How have you previously spoken about negative experiences with a person or situation? Write out something you might have said before starting this series:
- + How would you talk about that same person or circumstance now? What new language would you use?

- + What are some old choices that you've made previously when faced with negative situations or adversity that you are happy to be leaving behind?

- + What are some of the NEW choices for each of these that you will be making instead?

These are your Evidences of Transformation. Kingdom "assessment" of our growth considers real-life situations in which our learning is becoming evident in our daily lives. Learning without impact on how we see, think and speak about God, ourselves, other people and our situations, is just acquisition of knowledge. We are called to behold who God really is and become more like Him because of what we've seen in Him (2 Corinthians 3:18). That's transformation!
